Welcome to DrupalCon New Orleans

It's amazing how much things can change in a year.

Last time we met for DrupalCon North America, Drupal 8 was still a twinkle in our eyes. We were a community full of anticipation and excitement for the future of Drupal. Now, the future is here! At this DrupalCon, we're ready to celebrate and explore what a new Drupal 8 filled world looks like.

As is true for everything Drupal, you'll get out of this Con everything that you put into it. We encourage you to talk to strangers, take a chance on topics and sessions, and definitely come to Trivia Night. The unofficial motto of Drupal is "Come for the code, stay for the community." You will learn a lot about the code at this DrupalCon, but here's my guide for mastering the community.

If this is your first time at DrupalCon, make sure you check out the First Time Attendee Social on Monday, May 9 at 4:00pm. We'll walk you through the ins and outs of DrupalCon and make sure that you start your week off right by meeting new friends.

There is one DrupalCon tradition I personally never miss: the Prenote. In under 45 minutes you'll get a crash course in everything that makes this community great. The Prenote blends hijinx and musical theater to showcase our love of bad puns, our diverse set of talents, and our penchant for embarrassing Drupal project founder Dries. See the Prenote live and in-person in Hall G at 8:00am on Tuesday, May 10.

Because you can never get enough Drupal once you get started, we even have some evening activities planned. Trivia Night is the place to be for the nerdiest trivia questions ever written involving both llamas and chaos tools. Knowledge of Drupal is not required to have fun. In fact - if it's your first Trivia Night, your team gets bonus points! Doors open at 8:00pm at the National World War II Museum, 1043 Magazine Street, New Orleans.

Come sprint with us! Contribution to the Drupal project ranges from code to documentation to community organizing. Whatever you're interested in, there's a place for you at the Contribution Sprints. We'll have training for first-timers, mentors for anyone who needs one, and a whole lot of ways to give back to the project you love. Join us for sprints on Friday, May 13!

Thank you for being here and doing your part for Drupal. We're glad you're here!

Session Tracks

BUSINESS & STRATEGY

The Business and Strategy track is aimed at attendees looking for actionable advice, ideas and challenges from business owners, executives, and project managers. Sessions are intended to be relevant not just to Drupal shops, but the digital experience business as a whole. Sessions in this track will be non-technical in nature.

CODING AND DEVELOPMENT

With core Drupal 8 now in full swing and the contrib space rapidly maturing, now is an excellent time to get more deeply involved with one of the world's largest open-source development communities. The Coding and Development track is focused on educating developers on the latest techniques and tools for increasing the quality and efficacy of their projects.

CORE CONVERSATIONS

Core Conversations are a place for people actively working on and contributing to Drupal to meet, discuss, and plan the future of Drupal. This is the place for big ideas about the future of Drupal, as well as discussions about where we want to go and how we are going to get there. Where regular tracks and sessions focus on the present and immediate future, Core Conversations are about long-term.

DEVOPS

DevOps culture is building agile relationships in organizations of all sizes allowing them to build web sites and applications faster and better than ever before. From automating processes to creating dashboards, we see DevOps practices becoming critical to operations' ability to keep pace with the rapid velocity of modern development. In this track, the Drupal community will share wide-ranging experiences, knowledge and skills that will bring your developers and operations together to work more efficiently and resiliently.

DRUPAL.ORG

The Drupal.org track is a collection of sessions about Drupal.org the website. The Drupal Association Engineering Team will attend the sessions to provide feedback and participate in discussions.

DRUPAL SHOWCASE

This track will be full of case studies which provide an opportunity to reflect on how other companies work, learn from their successes and gain insights from the community. Come to hear business-level content from leaders in our industry and to fill up your toolbox with helpful resources and knowledge.

FRONT END

The Front End ecosystem continues to evolve at a blistering pace, both within Drupal and in general web development. While the end result may appear as simply HTML, CSS and Javascript, the road from conception to rendered page is complex. Innovation is abound: rich client-side applications now consume RESTful resources, stitched together with diverse contributed javascript technologies, stylized with shared CSS components and frameworks. Drupal 8 is embracing these technologies and making room for Front Enders to adopt new technologies.

HORIZONS

We use Drupal now in ways that were unimaginable even five years ago, to say nothing of when it was first created 15 years ago. For all the sessions that don't fit the traditional DrupalCon tracks, for ideas that are too big to be just one category, we offer Horizons, an interdisciplinary track that acknowledges our biggest challenges and greatest opportunities are at the messy edges of Drupal.

PHP

Drupal is not its own island but a part of the larger PHP and web ecosystem. Becoming a better PHP developer directly helps you become a better Drupal developer, especially with the release of Drupal 8. The PHP track is for intermediate to advanced sessions relating to PHP development or software development as a whole rather than specific to Drupal.

PROJECT MANAGEMENT

Good management is an integral component to successful projects, and this track aims to discuss and innovate on the practices, principles, and tools that make projects run better and faster. This content will speak to project managers/directors, scrum masters and other "PM" profiles looking to fine-tune their skills and interact with, and encourage a more engaged community. Join us to learn how to better estimate, lead, review, report on and strategically plan your projects and portfolios.

SITE BUILDING

The power of Drupal lies not just in the core platform, but also in powerful contributed modules that allow one to build sites quickly and efficiently. The Site Building track is designed to teach you ways to let Drupal do the hard work without needing to write code. This track is aimed at people looking to build sites using the Drupal framework but are not PHP masters, people who need better tools to layout their site, people looking to integrate with web services, and people who want to add advanced functionality to their site but aren't sure where to start. Sessions in this track will be technical in nature, although they would not usually involve any coding.

SYMPONY

The Symphony track is dedicated to exploring the Symfony Components that build Drupal 8. Learn from the Symfony core team new and elegant approaches to coding with PHP. Enhance your knowledge of the Symfony components and understand how Drupal 8 runs, save time when you code. Join industry leading experts for a full day of Symfony, Drupal, and Twig. Whether you're a Symfony aficionado or a novice eager to learn more, this track will have something for everyone.

USER EXPERIENCE

User Experience (UX) design forms the foundation of all interactions on the web. It's inherent in all aspects of production - from strategy and content creation to design and development. Whether you identify yourself as a UX practitioner or not, any part of the web that you touch affects the user's experience. This track is for conceptual thinkers, strategists, decision makers, content creators, designers and developers and will focus on the rich ecosphere of elements that compose the user experience design.

Come collaborate in person with hundreds of other Drupal community members and help improve Drupal. All are welcome to participate in this free event and no previous core experience is required.

#DrupalSprints

FIRST-TIME SPINTER WORKSHOP

Get up to speed with community tools: Drupal.org, issue queues, IRC, and installing Drupal 8 locally. Our mentors are excited to get you ready to tackle real issues.

Time: 9:00am - 11:00am
Room: 271-273

MENTORED CORE SPRINT

If you can install Drupal 8 locally, and are looking for mentors to help match your skills to an issue to work on, come to this room.

Time: 9:00am - 6:00pm
Room: 275-277

GENERAL SPRINTS

Come to the General Sprints if you know the issues you want to work on and have experience working with others in Drupal issue queues. You can join one of the many groups including Front-end United, Multilingual, Drupal.org, Search API for Drupal 8, Rules, Performance (front and back end), Drupal 8 bugs and more.

Time: 9:00am - 6:00pm
Room: 278-282

EXTENDED SPRINTS

On the weekends before and after Drupal-Con, join other sprinters from 9:00am to midnight on Saturday and Sunday.

Time: 9:00am - 9:00pm
Location: Launch Pad
643 Magazine St #102
New Orleans, LA 70130

Sprints sponsored by

Special thanks to Johanna Bergmann, Jess Nelson and Gener Umalі.

Thank you to our fantastic keynotes, Sara Wachter-Boettcher and Michael Schmid. Your insight and inspiration will help carry our community forward.

Thank you, Dries.

Thank you to all of our speakers and trainers. You are the core of our conference and the main reason that people come to DrupalCon. We want to thank each and every one of you!

Thank you to the many individuals and businesses in New Orleans for your hospitality and for helping coordinate hotels and venues for our social events which help make our event awesome.

As always, thank YOU for coming. We hope you've learned a little something, made some new friends, and most importantly, had a great and memorable week.

See you in Dublin!
The DrupalCon New Orleans Team

Code Of Conduct

DrupalCon brings together people from around the world who use, develop, design, and support the Drupal platform. Many attendees at DrupalCon are newcomers evaluating both our platform and our community.

The Drupal Code of Conduct (<http://drupal.org/dcoc>) outlines our shared ideals and values. This document expresses how we hope to make these ideals real at our conferences and other events. Our goal is to ensure that all participants can freely and openly share ideas in a friendly, safe, and welcoming environment that encourages and inspires mutual respect and collaboration.

COME FOR THE SOFTWARE, STAY FOR THE COMMUNITY

Drupal would simply not exist without its community. We want all attendees at DrupalCon to have an awesome experience, both in and out of formal conference sessions.

The purpose of this document is not to restrict the diversity of ideas and expression in the Drupal community; rather, it's to raise awareness of the potential for actions that could alienate valuable members — and potential members — of the community.

WE ARE CONSIDERATE

DrupalCon is an international event that attracts diverse people from a wide variety of ethnic, cultural, and religious backgrounds. We acknowledge that cross-cultural communication can often be complicated and encourage everyone to consider both the impact of their actions on those with different backgrounds and experiences and the honest intentions of those who may have unknowingly caused offense.

WE ARE WELCOMING

One of the greatest strengths of the Drupal community is our inclusiveness. Making all attendees feel welcome and included at DrupalCon is everyone's job, including exhibitors and sponsors.

WE ARE RESPECTFUL

Sponsors, volunteers, speakers, attendees, and other participants should strive to treat all people with dignity and respect, regardless of their culture, religion, physical appearance, disability, race, ethnicity, gender, or sexual orientation.

WE ARE COLLABORATIVE

If and when misunderstandings occur, we encourage people to work things out between themselves whenever possible. People are encouraged to take responsibility for their words and actions and listen to constructively presented criticism with an open mind, courtesy, and respect.

WHEN WE DISAGREE, WE CONSULT OTHERS

If people are unable to work out issues between themselves, they are encouraged to seek the advice of a mutually trusted third party or a designated community volunteer to help mediate.

WHEN WE NEED IT, WE ASK FOR HELP

We do not tolerate harassment of conference participants in any form. If you feel threatened or violated as a result of intimidating, harassing, abusive, discriminatory, derogatory or demeaning conduct, please immediately notify a conference staff member. Likewise, please immediately notify a staff member if you notice that someone else is being subjected to such behavior.

CONTACT THE COMMUNITY WORKING GROUP

If contacting the CWG about an incident, we need all available information: who's involved, what specifically caused the incident, what steps were taken to resolve it prior to contacting the CWG, any log files or other data to corroborate the event, etc.

IF THE MATTER IS URGENT, PLEASE CONTACT THE FOLLOWING INDIVIDUALS ON-SITE:

Adam Hill at adam@consultanddesign.com or @adshill on Twitter

Sabrina Schmidt at sabrina@vdesign.com or @haydawlin on Twitter

You may also contact the Drupal Community Working Group to help mediate or resolve issues via email at drupal-cwg@drupal.org or with an online incident report.

The DrupalCon team wants everyone to feel safe for the duration of the conference. If necessary, conference staff are empowered to take appropriate actions that may include, but are not limited to, warnings, expulsion from the conference without refund, and referrals to venue security or local law enforcement.

WE'RE ALL IN THIS TOGETHER

Thanks for making DrupalCon awesome for everyone!
