What is the Drupal Event Organizers Working Group?

A group of event organizers from around the globe who are concerned with supporting community-led events within the Drupal community. These include camps, summits, training days, contribution days, and meetups.

Mission

Support community-led teams to grow Drupal through local events.

Vision

To establish a world-wide network of Drupal experts who organize events and aid one another to do the same

Why should you care?

Come for the Software
Stay for the Community

“...Fostering the Drupal community is actually more important than just managing the code base.”

A11y is essential for inclusion

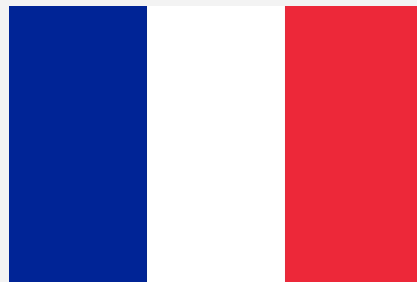

DrupalCon SF 2010
DrupalChix BoF

A11y is also law in many countries

Drupal is used for education and government sites around the world

Massachusetts Institute of Technology

If our code isn't accessible, using Drupal becomes a risk or liability

Drupal is leading the way...

- The Drupal community is committed and diligent
- Initiatives such as Media, Layout Builder, Olivero, and Claro have worked hard to make accessibility an essential part of the process

but

We still need to be better

As of this morning

526

Open A11y bugs
in Drupal Core

100

A11y bugs that only need RTBC

This impacts adoption

Before we make the leap, our platform dev team needs to make sure that any new version not only maintains, but improves, accessibility. That's why we participate in Drupal core initiatives such as Accessibility, Layout, and Media. There's lots of work to do, but the work is fun and challenging and rewarding - especially because the Drupal core team is so enthusiastic and committed to accessibility.

- Run automated testing, like the WAVE browser extension, and document the results
- Add screenshots or video recordings to previously reported issues

A11y testing: use your keyboard

Give up your mouse for one day
each week (or month)

Seriously.

Hide it.

Lock it away.

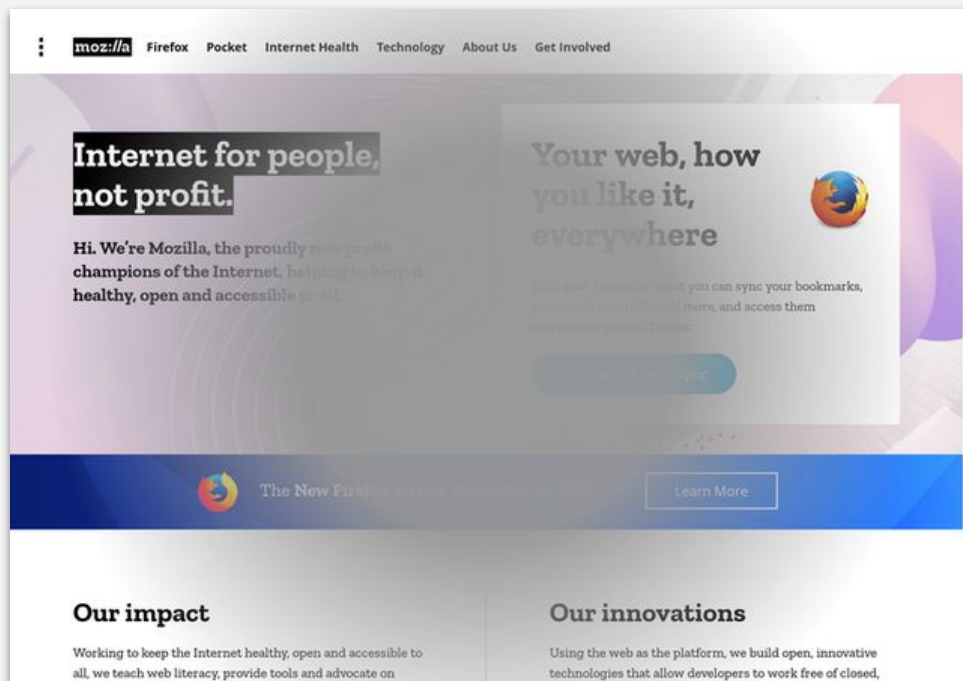

A11y testing: use NoCoffee

See the web as others might. NoCoffee simulates:

- Different types of vision
- Various types of color blindness

File a bug or comment on issues

When filing a new issue or commenting on the ones that already exist, please include the following:

- Problem you had
- Context of the problem
- How to reproduce
- Screenshot or recording if applicable

If unsure: ask!

Champion an initiative or module

Once you've got them reading with some nice punchy bold text that grabs their attention, they're like puddy in your hands. They'll click all your links and read all your comments and probably think you have the best site they've ever been on.

Brand guidelines

— Typefaces

For marketing use, the Drupal brand is represented by the following Typeface - free and accessible to everyone through google docs, Microsoft and many other free and open, or paid, publishing software.

Title: Libris

SubTitle: Helvetica neue Normal

Body: Helvetica neue light

The title font (Libris) is a nod to the digital brand and also the font of the Drupal logo. The subtitle and body fonts are in Helvetica neue, which is also a nod to the options presented on Drupal.org for typeface, and provides a clean and easy to read font for digital and print materials not posted on Drupal.org.

— Background Photos

Ideally, the logo should be used on a white background to give it the highest impact possible. Whenever it is not possible to do so, please be sure to choose background colors, or images, that provide a strong contrast with the logo.

The "spot blue" logo must be used on white and clear backgrounds.

The white logo must be used on dark backgrounds or strong contrast images. The black logo must be used on white or clear backgrounds, or on monochrome printing applications.

— Tone of Voice

Tone of voice is set by the core values of Drupal and how we speak to the world about what we're aiming to accomplish. While Drupal is a product of the Drupal community, it is an outward-facing product with a similar but distinct set of values:

- Innovation: Inspiring and aspirational statements that drive creative thinking—focused on our customers' vision of what's next.
- Industry: Much like the principles of open source, we are open to contribution from all. As such, we use non-gender defining language (ie people, not guys), and don't use gender-specific job titles (ie chairman), etc.
- Excellence: We strive to be helpful, but not preachy. We don't make promises or commands, but instead aim to say something of substance.

We use business casual language. We're professional (no shorthand yay!), but maintain a distinct conversational Drupal voice. Keep copy simple; don't overuse jargon. Don't use colloquialisms and slang at all—we have a global audience and these rarely translate.

Choice and Order

Your—use this first to convey the importance of our audience needs
We—use this next, to convey that we're real people and care about you

— Text Hierarchy

Here's a guide for some basic typography used for online, offline, and print communications.

Headline - the size of the font can change but the line spacing must respect the font size + 20% proportion

SubTitle - If used, it has to be properly supported from the title and it needs to be smaller in size than the headline but higher than the body text.

Body text - Variable size between 10 to 18 px, in the approved fonts (Helvetica or Poppins) in an 80% grey. The line-spacing may vary from 20 to 28 px.

How Can I Get Involved?

Building Evaluator Personas

Help us map out how decision makers select their CMS. How can we help them make their decision and onboard them in the community?

bit.ly/drupal-stakeholder-interviews

The screenshot displays the 'Drupal Evaluator Survey' interface. At the top, there are navigation options: 'Alter section Z', 'Continue to next section', 'Questions', and 'Responses'. The current section is 'Section 3 of 5'. The main question is 'If Drupal is platform of choice'. Below the question, there is a 'Description (optional)' field. The survey contains three long-answer text questions:

- How has Drupal positively impacted your organization?
- Have there been any challenges in using Drupal? How did you solve those challenges?
- What would you tell people who are deciding on a CMS platform as to why Drupal is a good option for their organization?

Each question has a 'Long answer text' input field. A sidebar on the right contains various utility icons for editing and navigation.

Deep mediterranean quiche

Recipe category: Main courses

Tags: Pastry Egg

An Italian inspired quiche with sun dried tomatoes and courgette. A perfect light meal for a summer's day.

Preparation time: 40 minutes

Cooking time: 30 minutes

Number of servings: 8

Difficulty: Medium

Recipe instruction

Ingredients

For the pastry:

280g plain flour

140g butter

- 1 Preheat the oven to 400°F/200°C. Starting with the pastry; rub the flour and butter in a bowl until crumbly like breadcrumbs. Add water, a little at a time, until it forms a dough.
- 2 Roll out the pastry on a floured board and gently spread over your tin. Place in the oven for 20 minutes before blind baking for a further 10.
- 3 Whilst the pastry is cooling, chop and gently cook the onions, garlic and courgette in a pan with olive oil.
- 4 In a large bowl, add the soya milk, half the parmesan, and the eggs. Gently mix.

Current status

- * Final stages of alpha
 - ☆ Focusing on stabilizing regions and fixing bugs
 - ☆ Looks good, works good
 - ☆ Fairly stable!
- * Use it! <https://www.drupal.org/project/olivero>

Toward core inclusion...

- * Betas will focus on accessibility testing, code quality, and edge case bugs
- * In core end of August as non-default theme
- * Drupal 9.1 comes out in December

After core inclusion...

- * Become the default theme in Drupal 9.2
- * Figure out dark mode / color switching
- * More stuff and things?

To the right of the illustration is a grey header with a group icon and the text 'GROUP'. Below this is the group name 'First Time Contributors' in a larger font. Underneath the name is a small dark square icon followed by the text 'Public group' and an information icon. At the bottom left of the group information is another group icon followed by the number '8' and a grey pill-shaped button containing the text 'You have joined'. At the bottom right is a blue link that says 'Read more'.

CONTRIBUTION & SPRINT MENTORING

Drupal Mentoring

Learn Through Contribution

Come to the mentored
"Mentored Core Sprint"
and we will help you start contributing to Drupal core.

We have tasks for every skillset!

Mentors will help you learn how to use community tools and help make Drupal better.
